

IMPACT: DC

@ The University of Maryland

July 13 – 24, 2014 // $2,425

At IMPACT: DC, teens will learn about current issues and make their voice heard in lobbying sessions with public officials and key decision makers. Whether they're new to advocacy and service or politics is their passion, they will engage in learning sessions, hands-on service projects and advocacy training. They'll be able to stand up for the issues they care about in an effective and influential way. Leading in DC also means taking time to explore where our leaders hang out – the museums and monuments, US Capitol and White House, Georgetown and more!

What You Can Expect from BBYO's On Campus Experiences:

- + BBYO professionals, who work with teens on the chapter, regional and International level year round, and/or the host/partner university staff supervise and support all BBYO on Campus programs.
- + Programs are designed to provide participants with a well-rounded experience while still having a unique focus inspired by the campus or host city such as advocacy (DC); entrepreneurship (Michigan); philanthropy (Chicago); and service (Boston).
- + Participants go off-campus during service and community outreach programs, organized fun and social activities or as small groups for staff-supervised free time.
- + Teens will receive approximately 35-45 community service hours for their participation at the IMPACT programs in Boston, Chicago and DC.
- + Transportation is provided from the designated airport to the program location.

What are they doing?

- + Going behind the scenes at the US Capitol and White House; visiting the national monuments, Holocaust and Smithsonian museums, Georgetown and more!
- + Working with premier non-profit organizations and meeting issue experts.
- + Living and learning on the campus of the University of Maryland's Hillel, one of the largest and most active in the world.

What are they gaining?

Inspiration based on the experience of leading in a city that is all about leadership; confidence and the ability to put a voice to their ideas and concerns; appreciation for what they have and the difference they can make.

Q: Should you still go to IMPACT: DC even if you don't know a lot about politics?

A: "Of course! IMPACT: DC gave me a chance to learn new things and to live out my passion through speakers, simulations, tours, advocacy and so much more! IMPACT: DC is for everyone and anyone looking to make a difference and have a fun time!"
